

Welcome to the emergency preparedness, module three, COVID-19 prevention plan. Hi, my name is Pamela Isom, President, CEO of In Case of Emergency. And for the past 21 years, I've had the distinct honor to serve corporations across the US with their emergency plans, training and equipment. And as we are now going through the pandemic of 2020, I can't help to think, as a safety professional, we have the strengths and the expertise needed to get our customers through. And even with those strengths, I have been challenged with what are the proper checklists to use, what are the proper plans, how do we put this together? So I'd like this course to represent all of the strengths that we've achieved and to give you the proper tools in the fight against COVID-19.
